Friday, October 19th has been set aside as the date of a homecoming game for all former students of U. T. Junior College. Proceeding the game a barbecue will be held in the College Gymnasium at 12:30 and following the game a hop will be held in the gymnasium for homecoming sons and daughters. At 8 o'clock the Junior Vols will meet the Tipton Military Institute, which is a new team on the Junior College athletic schedule. The T. M. I. team has a heavy line considerably outweighing the Junior Vol forward wall and also a heavier backfield than the local team.

Between halves of the game a grand spectacle and display of fireworks will be shot off as a special attraction in honor of the return of former students. A strong invitation is issued by Professor DeMoss, manager of ceremonies for the occasion, for every ex-student to make no other plans, except to attend these homecoming attractions.

President Hoskins has been invited to be present, and address former U. T. C. students and U. T. grads, and will likely be here. Mr. Paul Neely, new executive officer of the college, will also greet old former students. After the game is over the alumni will attend a chop in the gymnasium.

Mr. Ray D. Moore, 22, is in charge of food arrangements and debates.

U. T. Junior College

Has 159 Per Cent Gain

Enrollment figures of The University of Tennessee Junior College show a decided increase over those of past years, according to officials of the institution. A gain of 159 per cent has been made in the registration for the Fall Quarter of this year over the same quarter of last year. The present enrollment represents an increase of twenty-eight per cent over the largest previous enrollment of the College which was in the Fall of 1929. Two additional faculty members have been employed to care for the growing classes.

Football, dropped by the College last year, and restored this Fall, is thought to be one of the main factors in the larger enrollment. The new statement of Freshman enrollment shows that the offering of pre-medical and science courses contributed largely to the increase. Thirty students are enrolled for the degree in nursing while seventeen are prepared to become physicians.

The enrollment by counties is as follows: Benton 4, Carroll 10, Chester 2, Davidson 4, De Kalb 4, Dickson 2, Dyer 2, Haywood 4, Johnson 20, Hamilton 1, Hancock 2, Henderson 6, Henry 3, Hickman 1, Humphreys 2, Lake 8, Lawrence 2, Madison 4, Maury 2, Meigs 2, Mercer 19, Morgan 2, Newton 2, Polk 7, Putnam 2, Rhea 2, Sevier 2, Shelby 2, Smith 2, Warren 2, Washington 2, Wayne 2, West 2, Wilkes 2, Wink 2, York 2, and Yount 2.

If the U. T. Junior Vols are to come out of Friday night's game with Fred Hardeman here on the long end of the scoring they must show a much better defense than they did against Burritt College, according to Coach Everett Derryberry. After seeing the Fred Hardeman game in action Saturday against Tipton Military Institute, the Junior Vol coach said his men were facing a real test in the week end game. Derryberry, Fred Hardeman's quarterback, is everything he has been represented, the Junior Vol mentor avers. He is a shifty, swift runner, accurate port-side kicker and passer, and really a proverbial fox. The Henderson line is heavier than that of U. T. C., and is fast as well. The Tipton team, which comes here on the 19th, will also outweigh the Junior Vol men, says coach Derryberry.

This week will be devoted to strengthening the forward pass defense and to tightening up on the defense generally which at times appeared rather ragged in last week's game. Intensive signal drills will also be on the menu. Fred Hardeman plays are likely to be used by the B team against the varsity insofar as such can be said to exist at this stage. If any players are caught on the team up to the present, the coaches either are non-committal or have not decided in their own minds fully what they are. One thing alone is certain: a real battle will be waged in the Friday night encounter, and some serious work is ahead for the coaches and men.

The attendance at the Fred Hardeman game will in all probability exceed the opening crowd. The Henderson College footballers are international rivals of U. T. C. and point their efforts toward upsetting an Orange and White victory. Coach Stewart has one of the best assemblages of material ever brought together at Fred Hardeman, and will bring a well-coached squad here as usual. What the result will be remains to be seen, but every fan will get both eyes full of football thrills on Friday night. One need not be a prophet to predict a real game if he has witnessed past clashes of these teams.

LIBERAL ARTS ENROLMENT LEADS, FOLLOWED BY HOME EC. AND AG. AT COLLEGE

Liberal Arts students lead in the enrollment of students at the University of Tennessee Junior College, according to figures compiled in the regular reports. Fifty-seven are registered for this degree, followed by forty-one for home economics and twenty-seven for agriculture. Education follows with twenty, while twenty would be for nursing. Twenty-one students are enrolled in pre-medical studies, and twenty for the degree in business administration. The enrollment by counties is as follows: Benton 4, Carroll 10, Chester 2, Davidson 4, De Kalb 4, Dickson 2, Dyer 2, Haywood 4, Johnson 20, Hamilton 1, Hancock 2, Henderson 6, Henry 3, Hickman 1, Humphreys 2, Lake 8, Lawrence 2, Madison 4, Maury 2, Meigs 2, Mercer 19, Morgan 2, Newton 2, Polk 7, Putnam 2, Rhea 2, Sevier 2, Shelby 2, Smith 2, Warren 2, Washington 2, Wayne 2, West 2, Wilkes 2, Wink 2, York 2, and Yount 2.

One night "get-together" parties, sponsored by the various organizations and clubs on the campus, to get acquainted with members of the faculty, have become a startling reality. The parties held up to this time in this 1934 quarter have been very successful, the most successful in the history of the institution. These parties are the mediums by which we become acquainted with our classmates, who have come to spend a happy year among us. It is good to know those with whom we associate both in the classrooms and the world about us.

The first "get-together" of this season was brought about through the efforts of the All-Students Club with the capable assistance of Miss Elliott. Several very interesting games were played. The gentlemen were in reduced to the ladies' Sewing Circle, and what a Sewing Circle! Don't ask the boys about it. A new lucky fellows were paid two-hundred pieces for a handshake, and then came the refreshments... refreshments and more refreshments! Do you remember the mad scramble for the second serving of ice cream?

Again we were surprised by certain unmarried members of the faculty, who have come to be so generous that they attempted another delightful party. There was some wonderment and much rumor among the student body as to the nature of this social. Erroneous as some of the rumors that came to our ears might seem, we came to find that this mysterious affair was a general mixture of games, drama, poetry, speech-making, and dancing. But, perhaps, the most interesting phases of the occasion, especially to the gentlemen, were the free gifts of dollar bills to those lucky few, and the look upon the faces of the members of the fairer sex who happened to lose possession of the money. Musical entertainment was furnished by Mr. Parson and his school orchestra. The new students have no doubt, learned that we do have a few talents in our midst.

The two welcome parties given by the Methodist and First Baptist churches were also very enjoyable affairs, featured by games, contests, and refreshments.

These parties were enjoyed very much by the students, and we hope to have more of the same in the future. We believe that we are off to a good start so on with the school year!

NINE HUNDRED! ADVERTISERS TAKE NOTICE

Now, we need space of this issue for your advertisement and former students. Plans are under way to send The Volette to the libraries and reading rooms of about one hundred W. T. Tennessee High Schools. Several students of The Volette home are also planning to mail it to a number of their parents to a number of their friends who may become interested in it.

Following in the footsteps of big U. T., which trounced Centre College 32 to 0 last Saturday in the first game of the season, U. T. Junior raised the curtain on its six-home game schedule with exactly the same score.

Burritt had been touted from untraceable outside sources to be coming here to take the measure of the Junior Vols with a three touchdown measuring rod. They came, they saw, but failed to make good on the conquering hero stuff. Burritt brought here a smart, hard-fighting squad of fine sportsmen, who fought gamely against the odds. Those odds were some thirty-five stalwarts wearing the Orange and White of U. T. and rearing the lessons taught them by pigskin professors Derryberry and Smith. The toe of Greeson, the bulk of Bo Baird the tackling of Pearce, and the swift feet of Roney, Long and Taylor and the smashing charges of Greens were at times almost spectacular as these boys handled their various chores on the receiving end of forward passes all of which are likely to be of some use to the Junior Vols in future football fracas. And so the sky of football stardom was glimpsed on Friday night, but it was

Bonfire, Cheers Start

Junior Vols to Victory

Students Pepped Up for Support of Football Teams as Season Opens

The Junior Vols will not lack for enthusiastic support from the student stands as football is returned to the athletic field of U. T. J. C. Under the able direction of cheerleaders Susie Tinker, Mildred Derryberry, Virgil Tuck, James Hughey, Guy Weldon, and Pete Curlin we are off to a flying start, their song and cheer-leading being one of the highlights of Friday's game.

With the opening of the football season much school spirit has been manifest among the student body. Several enthusiastic pep meetings were held during the week, and these were climaxed with a huge bonfire and pep meeting at the athletic field Thursday night. This bonfire was made possible through the efforts of the freshman class, whose members collected the necessary fuel. The gathering was featured by short, inspirational talks by the coaches, alumni, faculty members, and members of the student body. Between these talks the crowd was led in cheering by the cheer leaders, and the meeting ended with the singing of the "Alma Mater".

With the enthusiasm which is being engendered on the campus and the growing school spirit manifest on every hand, it looks as though the Junior College is headed for a great year as it renews intercollegiate sports.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
AT U. T. J. C.

Dr. Geo. T. Willichin, director of the Department of Hygiene of the University of Tennessee, was here on Wednesday and Thursday making physical examinations of all students. These examinations are a part of the University's service to its students. If the student has defects which may be removed by corrective exercises such a program is prescribed and required of him or her; if the student requires medical treatment he is advised to seek treatment from a physician. The University seeks to produce citizens not only mentally fit but also physically fit. Modern education does not train the mind at the expense of the body which was caricatured with cartoons of a bespectacled big head supported by an anemic framework of bones covered with a light layer of flesh and skin. The athletic, and not the ascetic, is the representative student of modern education. Students have already learned that the "Phys. Ed." building is a real part of their educational routine at U.T.J.C.

WITH OUR FORMER STUDENTS

Elizabeth Callicot Newport Assists.

Mrs. Lamar Newport, formerly Elizabeth Callicot, has been named assistant to Professor Woods in mathematics and to Dr. Edward Schmidt in Chemistry. Mrs. Newport is the wife of Mr. Lamar Newport, principal of Martin High School. She attended the Junior College during the first year of its establishment, having taken her Freshman year at Hall-Moody. While here she was an honor student, with a magna cum laude in the Fall quarter, and summa cum laude in the Winter and Spring quarters. She took her degree at U. T. in Knoxville two years later.

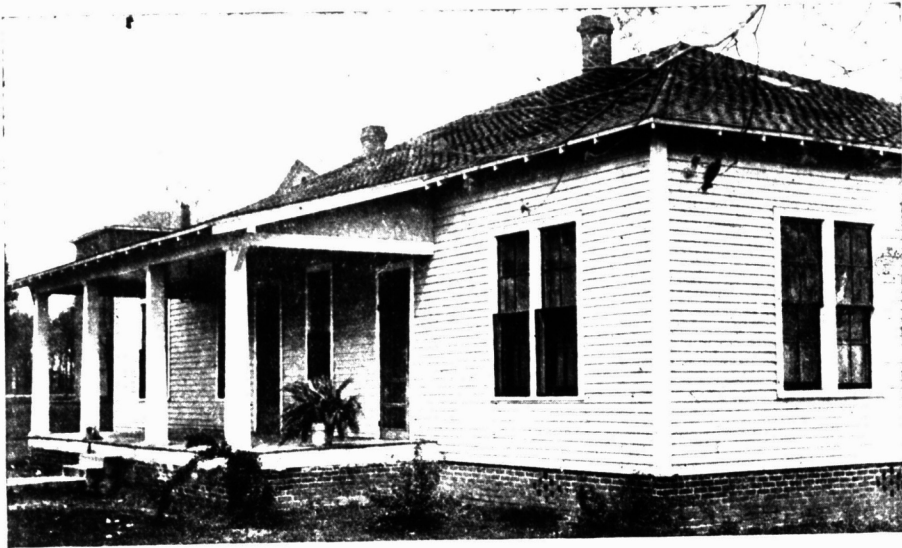

Lenore Glasgow Weds at University of Kentucky.

Word has reached the campus that Lenore Glasgow, U.T.J.C. '31-'32 and '32-'33, was married to Mr. Tom Marshall in Lexington, Ky., on October 2nd. Lenore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Glasgow of this place, was very popular with her fellow students. She is in the University of Kentucky from which she is to receive the B.S. degree next Spring. Her husband is a law student in the same institution.

We have learned of the wedding of another U.T.J.C. girl recently, who is continuing her schooling elsewhere. However, we are not at liberty to announce it yet. Curiosity killed a cat!

"FAT" AT NEWBORN

"Fat" McDonald is now teaching in Newborn High School. He taught last year in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., following his graduation from U.T. "Fat" attended U.T.J.C. in '29 and '30.

Soon to give way to a modern and more spacious building, this old structure has witnessed the passing of tons of food down hungry maws.

MRS. SHANKLIN, GREENFIELD HOME EC. ASST. AT COLLEGE

Mrs. Clyde Shanklin, formerly Miss Nell Lett of Greenfield, has been secured as assistant in Home Economics at the U.T. Junior College. Mrs. Shanklin will assist in teaching the large classes caused by the increased enrollment at the College.

As Miss Nell Lett she transferred to this branch of the University from Mayville College in 1928 and did her Sophomore year in Home Economics. Following this she went to the University at Knoxville, where she completed her work for a degree in that subject. She taught Home Economics in Grove High School in 1931-'32. Her husband, Clyde, is also a former student at the Junior College and is now teaching in Rutherford High School.

FORMER STUDENTS WED

The wedding of Miss Ruth Morgan and Fillmore Lyon on Tuesday, September 25 will be of interest to their many friends. Both of them are former students of U. T. J. C. and true blue friends of the Junior College. "Dough," as Fillmore is known to his friends, graduated from the University of Tennessee and Ruth attended Ward-Belmont after leaving the Junior College. The Volette congratulates these attractive young people and wishes for them one long honeymoon of happiness all the way.

That all who plan to attend any of the three attractions let him know. Those who desire to attend all three can do so for $1.50. Those who want to attend the barbecue and game may do so for $1.10, or if they choose to attend the game and hop following the cost will be 75 cents. The hop alone is only 35 cents. Girls who desire to bring an escort or an ex-student may do so, or boys may bring girls not ex-students. In either case one member of the couple must be an ex-student. The committee states:

Those who plan to attend are urged to clip the coupon on page 1, indicating what plan they elect and send to Professor Ray DeMoss, University of Tennessee Junior College. A post card giving the same information will suffice. Come on, all you ex's, get on your glad rags, and visit old U.T.J.C. We're looking for you!

Did You Know That—

The grim and spectral "Haunted House" that abode of evil from which hangs the sign of skull and crossed bones, the habitat of football men, was, at the time of its erection, the First Baptist Church of Martin? Have a care, men, defile not those sacred timbers.

The Junior College this year numbers among its student body two sets of twins. They are Margaret and Marjorie Overton of Sharon, and Sam and Ann Ozier of Alamo.

That five of our football heroes actually occupied rooms in the girls' dormitory? But that, however, was before the female occupation.

16 per cent of the total male enrollment are Williams? That's a lot of "Pills" to start the year with.

There is a movement on foot to organize a "Red-Headed Club" on the campus. Although red hair has never been entirely unfamiliar to the Junior College, yet the campus this year especially abounds in the carrot-topped species. Just take a squint at this list: Martha Ellis, Cyril Oliver, Lucile Biggs, Veldeaurine Rucker, Floyd "Red" Burdette, Robert "Red" Dudley, Joseph Andrew "Red" Chambers, Benjamin "Red" Franklin, Ford "Red" Taylor, Leslie "Red" Twomey, William "Red" Porter, J. W. "Red" Robbins, J. C. "Red" Stewart, and Frank "Red" Borthwick. If anyone has been omitted, just send in your name and a sample of your hair to the editor and due apologies will be made in the next issue.

That Executive Officer Meek was once a heaver of fast curves in independent baseball and later a coach of football? Nothing in a name after all.

That Martin was first called Frost?

That "Freck" Franklin excelled as a high school debater, as well as in football?

Only one other county in the United States or world grows more sweet potatoes than Weakley County.

That no other country in the world has a better Junior College than U.T.J.C.?

MR. MEER SPEAKS AT GRAMMAR AND HIGH SCHOOL

Executive Officer Paul Meek was the assembly speaker at the local Elementary School on Monday. He will also speak at the high school assembly on Thursday morning. Mr. Meek has also been invited to address the Business Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church on Sunday, and has accepted, it is understood.

Dumb Dolly thinks a Cocktail is a story about a rooster!

WISE CRACKS and LOAFER, JUNIOR

Who has found the bucket? Maybe Ann Fitts has it.

Who is the handsome, husky, and gallant young freshman who asked Mr. Cravens if the greenhouse was that little green house in the nursery school playground. This chap had been told to report to the greenhouse for a horticulture class. Well, well, probably some of the freshmen feel more at home in the nursery school.

One of Mr. Cravens' black sheep has returned to college. P (has the family increased yet.

Maybe Gordon will keep his finger out of the bowl next time.

Mr. Gat is expecting his hens to start laying hard-boiled eggs within the next few days.

Prof. DeMoss has just finished telling of the fine qualities and outstanding points of the Capon. Louise: Where can I buy some Capon eggs to set?

I wonder why so many students are going around with sprained ankles and bruised heads. Could you give us a logical answer, Miss Parks?

"Sugar Tree", you and Allen had better be careful of dogs across town on Wednesday night at 12:30 p.m.

Who says we don't have some of the Jones boys in school this year?

Who said that we didn't have a sweet boy in school this year? (Sugar Tree.)

Had you noticed more female singers this year? It is probably because of "Bird Seed" (Zimmerman).

Class Elects Officers

Junior College class activities officially began last week with the election of class officers.

At a meeting, called by Vergil Luck, last year's Freshman president, the Sophomore class chose as its president, Travis Lackey of Sharon. Other officers elected were: James Henry Jonakin, vice-president; Sally Harris, secretary and treasurer, and Dr. Schmidt class sponsor.

The Freshman class held its meeting Thursday afternoon, electing "Birdseed" Zimmerman of Union City president. The election of remaining officials was deferred until a later meeting.

With officials of such high quality, both classes should be able to accomplish much this year.

Elizabeth Waggoner Has Alabama Job

Elizabeth Waggoner has secured a good position in the high school at Lexington, Alabama, as Smith-Hughes Home Economics teacher, it is understood. Elizabeth completed two years of home ec at the U.T.J.C. in 1930. She completed her course at U.T. for the B.S. in H.E.

JOE BROWN

Manager of the Capitol Theatre, who is a loyal booster of U.T.J.C., who painted the large football sign over the Parker building downtown and the billboard sign in the edge of the Illinois Central Park at the corner of University and Lindell. Joe is also giving a student employment at the Capitol. Last year he ran sound films advertising the College in the local theatre and thru his efforts these were run in the two other theatres of the Ruffin Amusement Company, owners and operators of theatres in Newbern, Covington and Martin. As a captain of one of the teams selling season football tickets he promoted the sale of 32 books of tickets. Joe not only provides good shows for Junior College students; he provides us with the sort of backing which is the difference between a live organization and a dead one so far as real effectiveness is concerned. We salute you Joe and nominate you for membership in the Order of Royal Good Fellows.

NEW CLUB TO BE FORMED

A new club, to be known as The International Club, will be formed at the College if a charter is granted Professor C. E. Gatlin, who is promoting its organization, it has been learned. The club will be open to all students who are interested in the promotion of goodwill between the peoples of the world thru a better understanding of their ideals, customs and government. This is obtained by reading books, and holding club discussions of them, furnished free to all clubs chartered by the Carnegie Foundation which has as one its purposes the promotion of the cause of peace among college men and women.

Gene Heidelberg To Shovel First Spade of Dirt

Work will start on the new dining hall of the University of Tennessee Junior College on Thursday of this week, according to word received by Attorney Geo. Rowlett from Mr. Preston Hess, business manager of the University at Knoxville. Erection of the building has been deferred from week to week owing to various hitches. When the first bids were received they were found to exceed the appropriation and it was necessary to re-work the plans and advertise for new bidders. The Regen Construction Company of Nashville was awarded the contract in the second advertising as the lowest bidder. It is understood here that the delay in starting of the work by the contractor has been due to entanglements in Washington where the plans had to be gone over as a PWA project.

Money for this and grounds improvement was appropriated by the General Assembly in 1931.

The final start of the work will be celebrated by a ground breaking ceremony on Thursday when the contractor begins operations. Miss Gene Heidelberg, president of the Home Economics Club of the College, will shovel the first spade of dirt for $35,000 brick structure to replace the old inadequate frame building. The new dining hall will be located to the east of the Science building facing the oval drive and adjoining Moody Avenue.

Some of the men were nursing scrimmage injuries, but still had in their eyes the wistful look of longing for a taste of the battle.

Student Christian Association.

The Student Christian Association met Wednesday night, October 3. Bill Cowan, the president, presided as the following program was rendered:

Song—by all.

"The Value of Student Christianity"—Mayo Pierson.

Welcome Address—Mr. Meek.

Vocal Solo—Cyril Oliver.

The new members were welcomed and Polly Holmes was elected reporter. Meetings are held every two weeks on Wednesday night, and all students are cordially invited and welcomed.

Ag. Club Holds Initiation.

The Ag. Club met Tuesday night, October 2, for the first time during the 1934-35 collegiate year. The meeting was called to order by the president. There were about twenty old members and thirty prospective members present.

President Jenkins welcomed the prospective members and turned the meeting over to the vice-president.

The following program was rendered:

1. History of the Ag. Club—Gordon.

2. What the Ag. Club Represents—Prof. Cravens.

3. Obligations of the Ag. Club for the Coming Year—Prof. DeMoss.

4. Reading of the Constitution—Reed.

The following expressed a desire to join the Club: Sam Ozier, Earl Shannon, James Shankle, John Winard, Russell Lawler, Leron White, Joe McCollum, Gregory McCain, Colman Sampson, Frank King, Erwin Jordan, Pearson, Frank Brownhill, Clifton Jones, and J. R. Beasley. A. B. Reed, chairman of the initiation committee, read the routine of initiation to the "goats".

You probably have noticed a queerly dressed group of boys and wondered if they were cowboys from the west headed for the last roundup. The boys wore red bandana handkerchiefs, slouch hats, patched overalls, with one leg rolled up, smoking cob pipes, and yelling "Indian war-whoops". Well, these were "goats" of the Ag. Club and are our esteemed future farmers.

Mr. Colton, TVA official, was a distinguished visitor at our meeting. He told the Club some interesting things about the TVA. He also made some remarks about the outstanding things Prof. DeMoss did as dog breeder at the University at Knoxville.

Officers for the Fall quarter, 1934, are: President, Clifton Jenkins; vice-president, Darnal Gordon; secretary-treasurer, A. B. Reed; Club critic, Virgil Luck; reporter, Hollis Franks; sponsors, Profs. Cravens and DeMoss.

The Club meets every other Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m., in the Agriculture lecture room. Visitors are always welcomed.

Debating Club.

The Debating Club met Thursday night, September 29. Many handshakes were exchanged between the old members and everyone seemed to be 'rarin' to go'.

The meeting was largely a business meeting. The following program will be presented Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m., October 11, in the auditorium:

1. Debate: Resolved That men should kneel while proposing—Affirmative, Andy Chambers and Reed; Negative, Hoffman and Jenkins.

2. Advantages of Debating Club to Freshmen—Darnal Gordon.

3. How the Dining Hall Is Operated—Miss Shofner.

4. Talk—Prof. J. Paul Phillips.

All students, faculty members, and matrimonially inclined are cordially invited.

The officers for the 1934-35 scholastic year are: President, Darnal Gordon; vice-president, Clifton Jen-

Score of Students Out for Orchestra

Practice Has Already Started Under Director Parrish—Good
Season in Prospect

The 1934 Junior College orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Ottis Parrish, began practice on Wednesday night, September 26, with eighteen students on hand. Prof. Parrish is optimistic over the prospects of an unusually good orchestra this year, as these students compose one of the largest and most talented groups of musicians ever to represent the College.

Those students who have already definitely attached themselves to the orchestra are Robert Harrison, Martin, Weber Wood, Martin; Imogene McDurmon, Martin, Richard Tuck, Martin, Mayo Pearson, Jackson, Sam Ozier, Alamo, Peggy Lindsey, Big Sandy, and James Prichett, Dresden saxophones; Eugene Lee, Martin, bass horn; James Hughey, Martin, drums; Jack Hannings, Martin, clarinet; Harold Hoffman, Martin, trumpet; Ann Ozier, Alamo, Jane Mayo, Greenfield, Edna Parks, Gleason, and Prof. Parrish, violins; Margaret Joy Parrish, Martin, piano, and Cyril Oliver, Martin, vocal. Two others have signified their intention of joining since the above list was compiled bringing the total to twenty.

Coaches Not Satisfied With Jr. Vol Showing

Coaches Derryberry and Smith are not at all satisfied with the team work displayed by the Junior Vols in their victory over Burritt College Friday night. At times the Vols played heads-up football, but taken as a whole the team work was ragged both offensively and defensively. The coaches attribute the victory to the splendid kicking game displayed by the Vols.

Greeson and Long kept Burritt deep in their own territory most of the game with long, well placed punts. Late in the fourth period, a long punt by Greeson was fumbled by Burritt's safety man and the Vols recovered on Burritt's one yard line. On the next play Greeson went over for a touchdown.

Practically every man on the Junior Vol squad saw service during the game. Several sparkling performances were turned in, but no individual stars can be pointed out.

The coaches are planning to drive the squad hard in signal drills this week. They will also be drilled in team work. The pass defense, which looked ragged against Burritt's aerial attack, will also receive much attention.

While the fans have every reason to be satisfied with the result of Friday night's game, the critical eyes of the coaches were noticing several weaknesses in the first effort of the stalwart men in Orange and White. Next Friday night spectators may expect to see an improved team, both defensively and offensively, after a week devoted to smoothing out the rough spots.

The Debating Club was organized in 1932. It was the smallest Club on the campus at the time, the membership numbering only twelve. Not discouraged by its small membership the Club engaged in several inter-scholastic debates. During the past year the Club did not undertake inter-collegiate debating, but did hold several interesting local programs. This year the Club hopes to be able to enter into debates with other colleges and be a credit to our school.

We are striving to grow from the smallest to the largest, most powerful and successful Club in school. All students interested in debating are urged to join the Club and help us accomplish our purposes.
